

What's the Blurb?

The purpose of this activity is to look at the blurb and the front cover of books and think about what information books might contain.

Select a book from your table and using that book think up ten questions that you think you will find the answers in your book but don't look inside first!

Once you have written your questions open up the book and see if you can answer all your questions that you have made up.

If you finish one book try another.
